VIRGINIA LEAGUE
YEFTERDAY'S HESTLYS.

Beautiful Conservation of the Winter More of t maiedictions—replaced Martin, whose hitting was also all done in the minus column.

Kehliher was already on base through his hit to centre. He was advanced from first to third on Mace's and Busch's outs. Can you imagine anything more soul stirring. There was that whole city of Petersburg in a Richmond grandstand just pining and walling and moaning and begging for the kid named "Pschyco." Over in the visiting doghouse stod Hannifan waving a couple of bats above his head.

Curdan Nearly Down, Then—

Two were down; it was the ninth inning, and the home club was in the lead by apparently a safe margin. Early diners were already on their way out of the park with an I-told-you-so air on their faces. Up came Mr. Hannifan. Two strikes were called on him, just to make matiers worse, for them it was two down, one man on base, two strikes on the batter, and all over, but the shouting. But they did not know. Rapp juggled a few minutes and then grooved the last ball to Hannifan, evidently not worrying much and not caring to waste a precious curve ball. To cut it short high over left field fence went the sphere, and with it the hopes of a victory for the Coits. Mattis did his ample. Bowen, the first man up, hit to left, good and clean. Kehliher put one down in that tantalizing place just in front of the plate so that no-body could get it in time and was safe, with Bowen anchored on second Then Mace hit as good and hard to Wallace out in centre as has ever been seen at the local park. Bowen started like a shot for third and on to the plate, with Mace following full tilt.

Pull off Great Play.

Pull off Great Play.

Neither reckoned with the throwing arm of Wallace. He pegged beautifully to Cowan at the plate, neiding Bowen on third, and then Cower returned to Martin, who kept Mace in between second and third, using his head and running the play to third base. Martin continued working in on Mace and finally tagged him right at third. In the meantime Bowen had started for home. Martin wheeled, threw to Cowan, and one of the prettiest as well as one of the most unusual doubles seen on a diamond was completed. Also Rapp was pulled out of a bad hole by good, heady ball playing.

But that we sent the cold.

completed. Also Rapp was pulled out of a bad hole by good, heady bail y playing.

But that wasn't the only double in which the outseld took part, only is petersburg had the honors the other time. It was in the second inning Wallace got a life on Kehilher's error in not handling Martin's low throw at first. The hit and run was waved by Sullivan and Wallace started for second. Instead of hitting on the ground Mc popped to Bose who made a quick return to Kehilher, and that double was also complete.

But there were so many things which happened to make the game a great contest that it takes too long to tell about it.

There was everything from a baik by Bruckmiller to a home run by Hannifan. Sensational fielding stunts were the order of the day, and Mattis and Martin were the stars. Just to add variety McCabe was fined is by

TWO VICTORIES FOR PHILLIES

Boston, Mass., May 30.—Philadelphia won both the morning and afternoon games in the double-header with Boston to Cay, the first 3 to 0 and the second 11 to 4. The second game was won on hard hitting and costly errors by the locals, the visitors knooking Curts from the box in the seventh inning and securing a total of six runs before Pfeffer retired the side. The fielding of Knabe and Doolan was fast. The score:
